STOVES and RANGES

The Large Number of Stoves going out of our store is due to the fact that we sell only the best makes—"the Majestic Ranges", "Favorite Base Burners" the "King Bee Air Blast" which are in a class by themselves—they have no equal as coal savers and great heat producers which is as good a recommendation as any customer ever asks of his dealer. LEECH ORDERS SECOND CONTINUANCE IN LIBEL CASE

BY AGREEMENT OF ATTORNEYS
FULLER BROS. WILL BE TRIED NOV. 22

IMPORTANT IN MANY RESPECTS

Verdict in This Case Will Cast Great
Influence on $10,000 Damage
Case in January Term.

Justice W. L. Leech this morning issued an order making a second continuance of the case of the People vs. Theodore and Edward Fuller, for criminal libel. The case was continued until November 22, at which time it will be tried.

When the Fullers were arrested and arraigned on Saturday, Nov. 3, the attorneys for the defendant asked for a continuance, and inasmuch as Attorney Brewster for W. B. Merriman, the complainant, was to be out of the city, the attorneys for both sides agreed to two continuances of ten days each, the law providing that no continuance could be granted for over ten days. It was agreed at that time that Justice Lynch should issue the order of continuance today without the attorneys for either side appearing before him. Acting under this arrangement the order was issued and the case, which bids fair to be a sensational one, was continued until 10 o'clock Thursday morning, Nov. 22.

Who Will Try Case?

The certainty that the case will come to trial at that time—for the attorneys of both sides have nearly completed their evidence—has brought about the question of who will try the case.

In all probability the defendants will call for jury trial and where in this county can twelve men be found who are not familiar with the case, at least to such an extent that it will bar them from being jurors?

Should the Fullers call for trial by jury—and there is every reason to believe that they will adopt that course—it will mean a long drawn out examination of jurymen, and hundreds of men will have to be examined to obtain the necessary twelve men.

Case Has Influence.

The case will be important in a great many other respects. The verdict in this case will determine to a certain extent what the verdict will be in cases which will be preferred for republishing the alleged libelous article and it will also have a great influence on the $10,000 damage case which Mr. Merriman has preferred against the Sun publishers and which will be tried in the January term of the circuit court.

Further, should Mr. Merriman win this case, several other candidates who were maliciously attacked through the columns of the Sun will undoubtedly bring suit.

So if you live in excitement don't be discouraged. The fun is not over. In fact it has just started.

MOTHER OF EIGHT CHILDREN DIED TODAY

The children left to mourn her death are: Joe, Mary, Agnes, James, William, Henry, Charles and Eddie, all at home.

Mr. Houghton said a public understanding had been had with Speaker Shurtliff that if he were re-elected he would not oppose the local option bill.

INDIANA CORONER SEEKS TO FIX RESPONSIBILITY FOR WRECK.

FORTY-ONE VICTIMS CREMATED

Engineer of First Section of Immigrant Train Says His Signal Light Was Out.

Somebody's blunder, that was responsible for the death of fifty persons, half of whom were children, and severe injuries to fifty-two others, victims of the head-on collision between an immigrant passenger train on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad in the early morning yesterday at Woodville, Ind., is today the subject of investigation by Coroner J. C. Carson of Porter county. The most specific explanation of the cause of the wreck is that advanced by the engineer of the first section of train No. 47, the immigrant train, which passed safely through to Chicago. The freight train which ran into the second section of No. 47 had backed onto a siding to allow the passenger train to pass.

Warning Lights Blown Out.

"We were carrying green lights on our engine to warn the freight that our train was running in two parts," said this engineer. "After passing the freight I discovered that the lights in the green lamps had blown out. I relighted them, but it was too late then."

Railroad men say that it is understood that a whistle signal, plainly audible, in addition to the green lights, must be given by the first section of a train under such circumstances, to make plain to the crew of the train on the siding that another section follows. Each member of the crew of the waiting freight train says that this signal was not given.

Coroner Resumes Inquiry.

Coroner Carson today resumed the inquiry he began yesterday. He complained that some of the most important witnesses were removed from the county before he could interview them. He says that he must interview each member of the crews of the three trains involved in the disaster and is said to be contemplating the arrest of some of the railroad attaches. The coroner is investigating a report that the doors of the immigrant train were locked, preventing the occupants from escaping. Officials of the road deny this story. The coaches were consumed by the fire that followed the collision and no evidence of the locked doors could be found.

Forty-One Dead Cremated.

Forty-one of those dead were cremated in the fire that consumed the wreckage. Of those only twelve were recognizable as human beings. The others were gathered into two small packing cases and taken to Chester, Ind., where the inquest is being held. Seven of the dead were killed instantly when the crash came. Two died soon afterward as a result of their injuries.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever: nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, O.

FALL STYLES.

Costumes to Enhance the American Woman's Charms—New Fabrics.

In the new afternoon and street frocks there are to be seen diametrically opposite styles, but in all there is a hint of the empire and princess modes. Some of the dressy frocks sent over for the first fall openings have ruffled skirts. In one handsome confection there are no less than fourteen flounces. A smart, new material, called coleen poplin, is to be much used this winter.

GRAY POPLIN GOWN.

It combines the weave of the old Irish poplin with the suppleness and grace of the present day fabrics. In gray it is particularly pretty.

Velvet ribbon trims many of the daintiest autumn costumes. It appears in very wide widths or in groupings of narrow ribbons, three to nine rows in each group.

A novelty seen in an importation of fall costumes was a bronze green cloth suit with mandolin shaped jacket. The skirt was modeled in overskirt effect obtained by four well cut gored flounces arranged to give a plaited effect in front. A tan crepe de chine blouse of the washable variety was covered by mandolin shaped crossed fronts held in place by jet buttons set upon insets of white broadcloth. Three little curved sections of cloth barely covering the top of the arm passed for sleeves.

The gown in the cut is a chic costume made from gray coleen poplin. The skirt is trimmed at the bottom with two deep tucks above which are crescents of the material. The fichu bodice adornment is edged with frills of white Brussels net run with very narrow black velvet ribbon.

Culver's Joke

By Suse Clements Willis

Copyright, 1906, by E. N. Parcells

"I don't know any girls; simple reason," laughed Blake Narbel. "You see, the pater grew to be a woman hater after mother's death. We have retreated before civilization ever since."

"I'll give you a couple of mail introductions back east," laughed Culver. "I know a lot. You write a nice little letter, and I'll send it."

"I guess you'd have to write the letter, too," chuckled Narbel. "I never wrote to a woman in my life."

"You never can tell till you try," suggested Culver. "I wish you'd try now. It would keep you busy until I finish this letter."

He went on with his writing, and Narbel good humoredly picked up a pen. There was a pack train going down from the mines tomorrow, and he could understand why Culver wanted to finish off the letters he was writing back east. The train went down one week and back the next, affording them bimonthly communication with the outside world.

"Whom shall I address it to?" he demanded.

"Miss Lucy Mears," laughed Culver. Then two pens scratched over the paper, Culver's with easy, rapid movement, Narbel's painstakingly. He was less accustomed to writing, and Culver had finished half a dozen letters before the other's pen was still.

Culver laughed over the effusion, in which the writer had pictured his dull life and had pleaded for permission to open a correspondence. He explained fully his relations with Culver as business partner and chum and hinted at possibilities of matrimony.

Had he been in earnest instead of merely seeking a means of killing time while Culver was occupied he could not have done better.

In the morning Culver came across the sheets and, with a wicked chuckle, slipped them into an envelope and addressed them to Lucy Mears, anticipating that elderly lady's surprise when she should open the envelope back in the New England town.

Narbel, clearing up the table that evening, noted the absence of the sheets, but concluded that Culver had torn them up along with his own odd sheets and thought no more of the matter until a month later a letter came which clearly was not from the San Francisco firms with which he had business dealings.

Culver laughed so heartily when he had read him the first few paragraphs that he had become silent, and he would read no more, devouring the contents, while Culver chuckled over the girlish letter the elderly minister had indited. It was more like the letter of a schoolgirl than of a woman of forty.

It was a girlish letter, if not schoolgirlish, full of excuses and explanations that the writer had been tempted to answer because of the sincerity of the communication and Culver's recommendations. Culver reflected that it had been a capital letter and wondered how long he should let it run on before he should disillusionize Narbel with a prose portrait of Miss Lucy as he remembered her.

Before he decided to stop the fun a photograph arrived, a picture of a young girl with frank, honest eyes and a face that won even Culver's admiration, though he shouted in his glee as he recalled Miss Lucy, with her prim ways and angular features.

He had intended to give the hoax away, but this was too good to be abandoned, and he listened with a smile to Narbel's rhapsodies, until one night Blake shocked him with the announcement that Miss Mears had consented to marry him and that he was going east to get her.

As gently as he could Culver explained the deception and sought to dissuade his friend, but Narbel would have none of it. "It may be as you say," he agreed coldly, "but my word is passed and I am going east to keep it."

"But she's forty if she's a day," pleaded Culver. "Surely, Blake, you don't want to marry a woman seven years older than yourself."

"I shan't have any woman saying that I broke faith," he said soberly. "The train from the mines is going down tomorrow. I shall go with it."

He was as good as his word. When the train toiled back across the sandy wastes the foreman declared that he had seen Narbel board the eastbound limited, and Culver gave up his time to fixing up the house.

There was little to do in the orchard. The plants would not bear before the following year, by which time there would be a spur of track to the mines, and they could ship the fruit. Meanwhile all he had to do was to see that the trees were irrigated and that no stray cattle got in. It was easy enough, with the help of the men, to set up a shack for himself and leave the old house for Narbel and his bride.

He even had time to ride over and tell the men at the mine of the joke, and when at last word came over their wire that the pair was due to come out with the train they all gathered at the ranch to welcome the new Mrs. Narbel.

They rode out to meet the dust cloud which marked the track of the long line of wagons across the alkali, but the figure in the buggy beside Narbel was so swathed in duster and veils that no hint of her appearance could be gained, and the men, with many a nudge and smile, fell in behind and rode along.

They all turned in at the ranch gate, but Narbel swung his wife out of the buggy and took her into the house. "Mrs. Narbel will be glad to meet you when she has had a chance to tidy up," he said, with a grave face, "but she wants the dust off first."

Culver took the horse to the stables and then rejoined the waiting group on the grass plot in front of the house.

(Culver knew now why Narbel had insisted upon a grass plot.) They had not long to wait, for presently a gasp from the crowd caused Culver to turn, and there on the step stood Narbel and the very girl of the picture. She was smiling now as she acknowledged the various introductions. Culver was the last to come up, for he had not recovered from his amazement until Narbel called to him.

"I feel that I ought to be very grateful to you," she said in a low voice, "even though you were trying to play a joke."

"The joke seems to be on me," he said lamely.

"I don't think there is any joke," she said decidedly. "It was just the working of fate."

He turned to receive the farewells of the men from the mine, and more than one joked him on his vivid imagination. It was clear that they thought he had been fooling them, and he was glad that he was at least saved their jeers, but it was with no pleasant anticipation that he followed Narbel and his wife into the house.

"You builded better than you knew, Jack, when you sent that letter I wrote in jest."

"But this is not Lucy Mears," he stammered. "I thought you were going to keep faith at any cost."

"Aunt Lucy died a year ago," smiled Mrs. Narbel. "I suppose no one wrote you. As I was the only Lucy Mears I got the letter."

"And I got the sweetest little woman on earth," supplemented Narbel.

"And I," wound up Culver, "I don't know whether I should be praised or kicked. I think I'd prefer the latter."

But instead he received the praise.

A Typical Hungarian Village.

Imagine a very broad unpaved road, like a dusty, plowed field, and wild gardens trailing around and over white thatched cottages. Each cottage is one storied, with old world eaves and a veranda which runs along the whole front. The thatched roof seems to lean with all its strength upon a toy shaped colonnade, while the creepers afford a contrast to the whitewashed walls. If you walk down the road at dusk you will find at each door one of the household vigorously brushing clouds of dust away from the footpath, while long files of clean, curly pigs are trotting swiftly homeward and lean mongrels "bay the whispering wind" unceasingly. The men wear linen shirts and kilts. On workdays the costume has the appearance of a long, dingy night-dress tied with a leather girdle. On heydays the kilt is white and stiff, with accordion plating, while the shirt is of dainty embroidery and sets off an elaborate worsted waistcoat. The girls' full dress is still more picturesque, owing to the harmonious blending of the brightest prints—all shades and depths of blue and red and pink; no other colors—and to the graceful fall of the short petticoats, which do not reach the ankle, and are inflated by a slight suspicion of crinoline.—Saturday Review.

Cause of Warm and Cold Periods.

Experiments of the Swedish physicist Arrhenius, supplementing the investigations of Professor Langley, indicate that in order to explain the origin of the warm climate which prevailed over the earth in the tertiary age, when even the polar regions seem to have abounded with life, and of the intense cold that caused the glacial periods, when half the northern hemisphere was buried under ice, it is only necessary to look to slight changes in the composition of the atmosphere. The active agent in these changes is thought to have been carbon dioxide. It has been shown that this gas possesses so great a power to retain solar heat that its addition to the extent of only one-tenth of 1 per cent of the present atmosphere would suffice to produce a tertiary climate and that taking away only one-fiftieth of 1 per cent from the present atmosphere would bring on glaciation. It has been conjectured that the fall of meteors was the source of the extra supply of carbon dioxide in former geological periods.

A Faroe Reformer.

The people of the Faroe islands cling to their old customs and see little good in change, says the author of "The Faroes and Iceland," but now and then one of them becomes a conservative reformer. Such was an old man of Stromo who, in his youth, had learned cabinetmaking in Copenhagen, then had been a blacksmith in New South Wales and later a marine in the Danish navy during the Sleswick-Holstein war. Having thus traveled far beyond the wildest dreams of his countrymen, he returned while still a comparatively young man to Stromo and invested his savings in a home. Conservative though he appeared to outsiders, to the islanders he was a reckless innovator. He roofed his house with slate instead of with the traditional turf, but could find none to follow his example. They shook their heads in doubt. He argued vainly with them against the habit of throwing fish cleanings into the brook and getting drinking water lower down. The only advice they would accept from him—and that after long hesitation—was to boil their fish oil outdoors instead of in the living room. But when this terrible innovator heard from a visitor that women rode bicycles in England he was so astonished that he asserted confidently that the world could not last much longer.

A Tree of Many Powers.

The ash tree is rich with superstition. The old charlatans of the middle ages used it in their love potions, and the damsels of ancient times believed that it would enable them to make their sweethearts true and help them to discover their future husbands. The inhabitants of Iceland still look with dread upon the use of mountain ash as fuel. Their belief that it will make enemies of all who gather round a hearthstone on which it burns is deep seated and was once almost universal in Europe.

Superstitious seekers after good luck may still be found invoking the spirit of the even leaved ash, after the manner of the ancient tree worshippers, with the verses:

Even ash, I do pluck thee,
Hoping thus to meet good luck;
If no luck I get from thee
I shall wish thee on a tree.

SOMETHING ABOUT LOWDEN
Freeport Standard: Lowden is elected. There is no visible dissatisfaction with the result, but some are raising the question, why was Lowden's majority cut so low? And in answer to this question comes the fact that the democrats this year put up one of the strongest fights they ever did, and with one of the best of their men. And they exerted their utmost to win.

The questioner says that Hitt used to get 15,000 majority.

Never but once did the democrats really put up a man capable of making a fight against Mr. Hitt, and that was a Rockford resident. Hitt's majority was cut down to 500 at that time. In the light of this statement Lowden's majority under the opposition he encountered was very gratifying.

The democrats realized after Mr. Hitt's first term that he was unquestionably the man for the place. Consequently there were no candidates except ticket fillers put up by the other parties. The Standard predicts that in two years hence, when Col. Lowden again runs for congressman, his majority will be 10,000. Campaign lies spread in a contemptible manner by a republican opponent for the nomination and taken up in a similar cause by Wilson after the nominations, will have been proved false, and the people of the entire Thirteenth congressional district will unite in the cry, "Lowden in 1908."

Naturally Pious.

We learn from the Gazette that the people of Sterling are addicted to profanity of a most alarming and disgraceful extent. Well, really, we can not in our heart blame them. If we were a citizen of Sterling we must confess that we would find provocation for the use of some words expressive of our feelings of discouragement.

The Sterling people are naturally prone to plety, we must insist and it is not a proper spirit of criticism when speaking of profanity at Sterling to forget the adverse circumstances under which that people labor.

J. B. Gilbert of Sterling is a business visitor in Dixon today.

Mrs. F. J. Rosbrook and Miss Rosbrook went to Chicago this morning.

Mrs. Clifford Gray and two children went to Chicago this morning for a two weeks' visit.

THE LAND AGENTS AND TRANSPORTATION

DIXON MEN HAVE BEEN FORCED TO PAY THEIR RAIL-WAY FARES.

HOWEVER FUTURE LOOKS BRIGHT

J. F. Titus, Local Treasurer, Appointed Vice President to Succeed Late Mr. Welling.

Since the passage of the railroad rate bill by the last congress and the subsequent effectiveness of it, the land men of Dixon are wondering where they are going to get their transportation for western points. For years it has been a custom of the railroad companies to issue free transportation to the agent who took a party of land seekers with him.

The passage of the rate bill, which absolutely prohibits the issuing of any free transportation, has put a stop to this, and several of the leading agents of this city have been forced to pay their own transportation.

However, the following dispatch from Chicago will settle the question, for it shows how the railroad companies will defeat the feature of the bill.

Passenger officials of western lines who returned from Washington brought the news that the commission has decided definitely that the issuance of free transportation to immigration agents not regularly employed is a violation of the new rate regarding discrimination and has, therefore, been illegal ever since the law went into effect on August 27.

The railways' work of promoting immigration, however, will not halt. It was stated that each of them will place from 50 to 100 agents on its regular pay roll. It was estimated by a passenger traffic manager that this will involve an increased expenditure of from $100,000 to $150,000 for each line, or an aggregate of $2,000,000 or $3,000,000.

Titus Made I. C. Treasurer.

President J. T. Harahan of the Illinois Central railroad, has appointed J. F. Titus, who has been local treasurer of the company, assistant to the president in charge of the accounting and treasury departments, to succeed the late vice president, John C. Welling.

HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS ARE UNDER THE BAN

Attorney General Says According to Law They Are Forbidden to Serve Game.

Attorney General Stead has rendered the following opinion for State Game Commissioner Wheeler regarding the serving of game by hotel keepers and owners of restaurants: "I am of the opinion that when the proprietor of a restaurant or hotel serves to his patrons game, he is selling such game within the meaning of the section about food that it is unlawful for the proprietor of a hotel or restaurant to serve to his patrons at any time quail, pinnated grouse or prairie chickens, wild ducks or brant, ruffed grouse of partridge, gray or red fox or black squirrel, or wild turkey, caught, ensnared, entrapped or killed within the limits of this state. As to all other animals, wild fowl or birds mentioned in section 1 of the game act, it would be unlawful for the proprietor of a restaurant or hotel to serve game to patrons at any time when the killing, entrapping, netting or ensnaring of such animals, wild fowl or birds is unlawful under the provisions of the game laws."

WORK ON Y. M. C. A.
PROGRESSING NICELY

The expectations of the Y. M. C. A. building committee and the contractor that the new building will be under roof by the end of this week bid fair to be realized. The rear wall has been completed and this morning the cornice was put on, and the work on the other three walls is rapidly nearing completion.

MAJOR GENERAL SHAFTER

Major General William Rufus Shafter, United States army, retired, died at 12:45 p. m. Monday, at the ranch of Captain W. H. McKittrick, his son-in-law, twenty miles south of Bakersfield, Cal., after an illness of seven days.

Career as Army Officer.

General Shafter, who was born in Michigan, was 24 years old when the civil war broke out and he entered the service as first lieutenant of the Seventh Michigan infantry.

His promotion was rapid. On September 5, 1862, he was commissioned major of the Nineteenth Michigan infantry; lieutenant colonel June 5, 1863, and colonel of the Seventeenth United States infantry April 19, 1864. He was brevetted colonel for "gallant and meritorious service" at the battle of Fair Oaks and brigadier general for "gallant and meritorious services during the war." The principal battles in which he participated were the siege of Yorktown, West Point, Fair Oaks, Savage Station, Glendale, Malvern Hill and Thompson Station, Tennessee.

Here he was taken prisoner but was soon after exchanged. As an Indian fighter he was known as "Pecos Bill." On May 3, 1897, he was promoted to be brigadier general.

When the war with Spain broke out General Shafter was made a major general of volunteers. He commanded at Santiago. He was then retired from the regular army and sent back to the department of California as a volunteer. With his retirement from the army his military life ended.

Hennepin Canal Will Be Open Next Year

Inability to Install the Dam Gates Will Cause a Further Delay.

Practical value of the Hennepin canal along lower Rock river near Moline will not be developed until the channel through that portion can be made more permanent and deeper than at present. The government is restrained from accomplishing anything in the line of improvement by the property owners along the bank who will not permit the erection of a dyke to properly maintain the channel. The government undertook to do this work some time ago but the land owners raised such pronounced opposition that the plan was abandoned.

The result is that at present the only work that is being done to improve the lower Rock river is certain dredging which is being carried on in Rock river pool, slack water just below Green river where for a mile and a half the river has been entirely unnavigable. A four foot channel is now being maintained through the pool but this is only temporary and more permanent work will eventually be done. In spite of slack water the channel at this point is shifting and it is thought that one or two small wing dams will be necessary, but this is not certain. A large amount of blasting will, however, be necessary before a good channel will be obtained. This work will be delayed one year, until the Hennepin canal is finished, as the rock which is blasted out will be used in riprap work on the banks of the canal. One or two small dredges have been operating in the pool for two months and they will be kept there until such time as the creation of a permanent channel can be accomplished.

Effect on Wall Street.

The result of the election fell flat on Wall street, New York. If the socialistic and discontented vote be eliminated, it will be found that there still remains an immense vote, especially in that city, eager to express its disapproval of the abuses of corporate management revealed in the various exposures of one kind or another during the past few years. Ordinarily, politics do not enter into stock market operations for any protracted length of time. The present, however, may prove an exception; for it is plain that a very large majority of the very active voters in that state are apparently intent upon rebuking what they claim to be arrogant abuses of the money power. This spirit of opposition has evidently been thoroughly aroused and there is no mistake as to its determination to have results. It is sure also to express itself in a good deal of hostile

The Hennepin canal will not be opened until one year from this fall. The opening will be delayed by the construction of the feeder dam at Sterling, which will in turn be delayed by the scarcity of steel. The steel for the gates which will be used in this lock will not be ready for a year, and if other work was finished short of that time, the lack of the steel would delay matters. At present the concrete work on the south half of the dam is nearly finished. No work was done on it until September, owing to a legal tangle growing out of the efforts of the water power company to secure certain concessions in connection with the dam construction.

The aqueduct which will carry the waters of the Hennepin canal over Green river at the conflux of that river with Rock river is nearing completion. It is not known whether this can be finished this fall, but early spring will see this portion of the work ready for the opening of the canal. Aside from this and the feeder dam there are numerous odds and ends of the work that are yet to be done. These can all be cleaned up in a comparatively short time.

With the opening of the Hennepin canal the waterway between the Illinois and the Mississippi rivers will be completed. The poorest part of the connection will be the lower end of Rock river. The channel is narrow and must ultimately be widened by the government at heavy expense and the maintenance of the small channel that is at present possible will require a portionately expenditure every year.—Ex.

legislation in other states and in continued aggressiveness on the part of the administration at Washington against the trusts.

LIVE STOCK SHOW.

The Seventh Annual International Live Stock Exposition, the greatest of all live stock shows ever held in Chicago, is close at hand and, as usual, the good things of all the show yards of the year will rally for a battle royal. The breeders have learned the value of an award at this exposition and its teachings have encouraged many a new breeder to fit for the honor of an award.

The exposition will open on December 1st, and will run eight days.

M. C. Ward of Sterling was a business visitor in Dixon Monday afternoon.

STERLING LADY IS NOT OLDEST TWIN

MRS. COVEY, AGED 87, CLAIMED TO HAVE THAN HONORED RECORD.

NEW YORK DISPUTES CLAIM

Twin of That State Died on Monday,
Aged Ninety-One Years—His Brother Still Living.

During the past several years the Sterling papers have contained accounts of the fact that Mrs. Katherine Covey, aged 87 years, of that city, was the oldest twin in the United States, and it was only recently that her twin sister, Mrs. Parsons, of Mt. Carroll, died. Mrs. Covey is still in good health and lives in Sterling, and on May 18, her birthday, the papers of that city gave her a very nice notice, claiming that she was the oldest twin in the union. The following dispatch in this morning's Chicago papers, brings to notice twins who exceeded even the fine record of Mrs. Covey and her sister: Amsterdam, N. Y., Nov. 12—Jacob Steen died at the home of his granddaughter today, in his 91st year. He and his brother, Walter, of Syracuse, who was at his bedside, were the oldest twins in the United States. The Steens were born May 19, 1816, in the town of Florida, a few miles from here.

FANTANA AT DIXON OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

This evening at the Dixon opera house one of the season's finest attractions will be presented. "Fantana," Schubert's great Japanese musical comedy, one of the hits of the century, will be given by a company which includes many of the original cast, and which carries all of the necessary scenery and accessories to make the show a big success. The seat sale has been remarkably good and there is every indication that "Fantana" will be presented to S. R. O.

Aquarium Supply Depot.

W. A. Young of Chicago, has established at the William Beier bakery for a short time, a fish and aquarium supply depot, which will probably meet with considerable interest and patronage from Dixon people. Mr. Young will have gold fish, lizards, imported fantails, etc., and he expects to place many of the pretty ornaments in the homes of this vicinity.

LOOKS LIKE A BIG DEPARTMENT STORE SURE

No further announcement concerning the proposed department store can be made today, other than that the St. Louis men are still in consultation with the owners and agents of the building, relative to certain changes to be made, and the terms of lease. From one of the agents a Telegraph representative learned this morning that the negotiations would probably be completed by this evening or tomorrow morning.

Dowie's Wife.

Mr. Voliva, the present manager of Zion City, declares that the ambition of Dowie's wife brought about the downfall of that apostle. Perhaps, however, it was Dowie who planted the seeds of ambition in the old lady's breast. Those who visited her in her home on the lake, represent her as a conceited old lady, greatly puffed up with an idea that she is able to boss the apostle, and on that account, not a pleasant person to associate with. Now that Voliva has turned against her she evidently has no friends at all. Zion City seems to be petering out.

DEMENT TOWN DOINGS

Force of Habit—It is given out by the management of one of the local telephone exchanges that a certain popular young lady, who is employed therein, has of late acquired the most unfortunate habit of sleeping late in the morning, said slumbers causing her to be late to her work.

Now, the aforesaid manager is a man of kind heart and good nature. He is desirous of looking out for the welfare of the girls employed in his office, and so he purchased the young lady in question an alarm clock; one of those pests that ring spasmodically for nearly half an hour.

He presented it to our heroine with the injunction that she use it, per directions, and she would never be late again. She promised, and that night set the alarm for 6:30 o'clock. Next morning the bell jangled loudly and fiercely for several minutes. The girl rolled over in bed and mumbled: "Line busy; call again."

Her friends pronounce her case as hopeless.

Guess Again.—The Telegraph has made arrangements with the 'most foolish man in Dixon for a series of riddles, original and otherwise, on which the brains of our readers can be exercised at will. Here is his first batch. Another one is promised:

What subject can be made light of? Gas.

When is butter like Irish children? When it is made into little pats.

If Dick's father is John's son, what relation is Dick to John? His grandson.

Why is a duel quickly managed? Because it only takes two seconds to arrange it.

Why is a young lady like a sheaf of wheat? First, she is cradled, then thrashed and finally she becomes the flower (hour) of the family.

VICKSBURG MONUMENT

Commission and Guests Enjoyed Interesting Trip Through the Southland--Detail Description of Beautiful Monument to the Soldiers from Illinois.

Citizens who were honored by the Vicksburg monument commission for Illinois enjoyed the time of their life. Those from Dixon who owe our fellow citizen, C. H. Noble, a debt of gratitude for the pleasure of the trip, continue to talk in enthusiastic language of the enjoyment of the occasion. The Telegraph has given a perfect picture of the monument, a structure which will ever be the pride of Illinois; and the dedication exercises were a most happy recollection for those who participated therein. The cost of the monument was $240,000.

One of the patriotic features of the mausoleum is the bronze tablets containing the names of every union soldier who fought at the siege of Vicksburg. Over thirty-six thousand soldiers' names are cast on the bronze tablets.

The temple is built of pure white marble and is one of the finest memorials in the world. It is located on the field about three and a half miles west of the city of Vicksburg. It stands on an eminence west of the Jackson road from which is an approach consisting of forty-seven marble steps, with two platforms, twenty-seven by seventy feet. Has four columns in front and two on each side, and is surmounted by an architrave frieze and cornice, tympanum and pediment. Surmounting the latter is a bronze eagle, gilded with pure gold, six feet high, with wings spreading over nine feet. The building is circular in form and about fifty feet in diameter, and sixty-six feet high.

In the center of the floor is a circle of mosaic representing the Illinois state seal. This mosaic is surrounded by bands of verde antique and marble highly polished.

In the panels formed by the entablature and the pilasters the names of the commanding officers are carved. The style of the mausoleum is Roman doric. At the cornice where the dome begins encircling the monument are thirty-three white marble eagles with a shield and scroll beneath them.

Opposite the door is an historical tablet and words containing very patriotic sentiments regarding peace and loyalty, and a part of the song, "Illinois." Under the portico on the outside of the monument are busts of Grant, Lincoln and the Illinois "war governor," Yates. In the tympanum of the portico there are three figures sculptured in marble, full relief, representing history, peace and the South caring for the graves of the dead. The marble sculpturing was executed by the well known and artistic sculptor, Mr. Charles J. Mulligan, who has displayed much genius in these beautiful specimens of his work. Mr. W. B. Mundie was the architect who designed this beautiful structure and he has displayed an ability and genius that reminds us that the noble art of architecture was not buried with the builders of ancient mausoleums. Both architects are Chicago men.

The first stop of the train containing the commissioners, Governor Deneen, his staff and guests, was at Jackson, Mississippi, where a cordial reception was given the party. Being several hours late only short addresses and automobile rides were enjoyed. Buildings were profusely decorated with the stars and stripes.

The train of thirteen Pullman cars arrived in Vicksburg at night, but the reception was cordial the following morning.

At Vicksburg the Northern visitors were very warmly received and the dedication exercises passed off without a hitch. A long procession of carriages and soldiers marched out to the national park, the battle field where stands the grand and imposing monument.

The structure was formally turned over by the president of the Illinois commission, Colonel A. C. Matthews, to the United States government and received by an army officer, Col. Schofield, in an extended speech. Addresses were also delivered by Gov. Deneen, for Illinois, and Governor Vardaman, for Mississippi. The school children of Vicksburg sang patriotic songs, and also "Dixie" with a vim. Governor Vardaman made a very patriotic and eloquent speech, interspersed with good humor and happy thoughts. But the great oration of the day was delivered by Hon. W. J. Calhoun, a masterly and patriotic production in oratory.

An edifice costing $5,000 was constructed especially for the purpose of holding therein the reception given by Governor Vardaman and the people of Vicksburg to the commission and visitors. Governor Deneen, members of the commission, Mrs. John A. Logan, Miss Deneen, Mrs. Tucker, daughter of General Logan, and other distinguished guests were honored.

At the reception given by Governor Vardaman was the widow of Mr. Champion, owner of the famous Champion Hill, where the bloody battle bearing the name was fought. Mrs. Champion is and was loyal to the government. The lady, though advanced in years, is bright mentally and physically, and glories in her loyalty to the flag.

In the evening Judge Dickinson—who will be remembered as the lawyer who gained a world wide fame in arguing for the American government before an international arbitration in London, the Alaska boundary question—gave a dinner to Governor Deneen, Governor Vardaman, General Lee and their ladies, which was a very pleasant and recherche affair. The judge, though a citizen of Chicago, is originally from Tennessee, and being a Southerner to the man or born, enjoyed the dedication exercises, and especially reminiscent talks of war days in the South with General Lee, the last surviving general of the Confederacy and a most charming gentleman, of the old school.

Hon. W. J. Calhoun and lady were also guests of Judge Dickinson at the dinner mentioned.

Commissioner C. H. Noble, who had charge of the dedication exercises, deserves credit for the executive ability displayed in planning the affair, as was indicated by the success of the function.

Editor Fitzgerald of the Vicksburg Herald gave a party a pleasant ride over the city. In fact the people all were very generous and kind in acts and expressions of hospitality, all truly characteristic of the southern people.

The next stop of the party after Vicksburg was Baton Rouge, where Governor Blanchard and wife joined the party.

At the Louisiana capital the soldiers paraded through the streets and the citizens gave us carriage and auto rides about the city which was decorated profusely with American flags.

At New Orleans the hospitality of the city was freely extended to the visitors.

Major Murphy of Governor Blanchard's staff, gave about forty visitors (all the law would permit) a pleasant ride on the government steamer,

SOCIAL HAPPENINGS

PAST AND PROSPECTIVE

Leave your order for engraved calling cards, wedding or reception invitations at this office.

Pioneer Club.

The Pioneer club will meet with Mrs. J. M. Batchelder Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

It is expected that a number of Sterling young people will come to Dixon this evening to attend the production of Fantana, at the Dixon opera house.

A number of Dixon young people are planning to go to Sterling tomorrow evening to attend the musicale to be given by the Misses Cowan and Woodworth.

Elks Preparing for Fair.

The committee in charge of the coming Elks' fair are working hard for the event and they promise in a short time to have some features ready for announcement, which will give some idea of the nature of the entertainment to be provided, which it is hoped will eclipse anything given by the Elks for several years.

Fine Goose Supper.

The main attraction and feature of the meeting of the Elks Monday evening was the excellent goose supper served by Henry Lebowich. The supper was most carefully prepared and served and the Elks who partook of Mr. Lebowich's hospitality certainly helped him celebrate his birthday, for that was the occasion of the "feed." The social and supper followed the regular business meeting of the order at which five candidates were initiated and given the obligation.

Sell-Feck Wedding.

Bert L. Sell of Chicago, aged 25, and Miss Edna E. Feck of Sycamore, aged 22, were united in marriage by Justice A. G. Harris at his office in this city on Monday evening at 6 o'clock. The couple came to Dixon from Sterling on the 5 o'clock interurban car and left immediately after the ceremony.

Boys Learn to Dance.

A peculiarity that has been noticed by dancers this season is that the number of male students exceed the young ladies almost three to one. At every dancing class or social many young men, the majority of whom are high school students, may be seen taking instruction, while the number of young ladies who are learning is surprisingly small.

Dancers have been unable to satisfactorily explain the reversal of form, for on preceding years, the number of young ladies who have taken instruction has been very much greater than the men. As a result there have been more lady dancers in the city and the "poor men" have been worked to death.

Of course no instances have been reported where the young ladies have fought for the privilege of dancing with certain ones of the few men dancers, but it has been known that friendships have been strained, all because some unfortunate maiden has been asked to dance more than once with some other damsel's sweetheart.

But relief from the situation is in sight. The men are waking up to their lost opportunities and the young ladies of the city cry aloud, with one voice and unanimously, "Let the good work go on."

Dancing School.

The Misses Brookner and Schilling are now assured of the success of their dancing school, which opened Monday evening in Rosbrook's hall. The number and class of the attendants assured the young ladies that their school had supplied a want, and that the patronage will be such that they will have reason to be proud. The class, which met from 7:30 until 9 o'clock, was very well filled and the instructions given brought quick results. Both of the instructresses are well qualified to teach the "light fantastic" and the students made rapid progress. The assembly, which followed the hours of instruction, was well attended and proved of enjoyment to all. The music was furnished by the Imperial orchestra and many comments were heard on the excellent work of the musicians.

The ladies will conduct their school every Monday evening in the Davis-Miller Nuptials.

At 6 o'clock Monday evening at the Methodist parsonage, Rev. C. C. McLean, pastor of that church united George M. Davis of Amboy and Miss Minnie G. Miller of Lee Center in marriage. The couple was attended by the mothers of the bride and groom, Mrs. Martha E. Miller and Mrs. Emily R. Davis. The party returned to Amboy after the service.

The recording of the marriage license in the county clerk's book tells a story of life's tragedy, which certainly mars the happiness usually attendant upon marital events.

Fastened to the page in the big book on which the license is recorded is a slip, which tells that the mother of the girl, who is but seventeen years of age, gave her consent to the marriage of her daughter.

But a notation on the edge of the slip tells the sad story, briefly: "Father has been missing for eighteen years. Mother only guardian."

James Brooks, the popular tonorial artist of Harmon, was in Dixon today calling on friends.

Deputy Sheriff McGowan will leave this evening for Watertown, S. Dak., where he will look after business interests.

A. Mangus, W. J. McAlpine and Blinn Smith went hunting today and consternation reigns supreme among the game in the surrounding timbers.

STERLING MEN WILL ASSIST ORCHESTRA

The opera house orchestra will be assisted this evening by James Jarvis, A. G. Hubbard and M. E. Stark of the Academy orchestra of Sterling. The production of Fantana requires a big orchestra and these men, who are proficient on their instruments, the clarinet, trombone and drums, will aid the local musicians greatly.

AWFUL BLUNDER

Sends Forty Souls Suddenly to Eternity, Some Through Fire.

DOZENS ARE BADLY WOUNDED

Only Sixty Unhurt Out of a Total of 135 Persons.

MOST VICTIMS ARE IMMIGRANTS

Freight Crew Unconscious of a Vital Fact and Crashes into a Passenger Train—Flames Roast Many Alive.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—The officials of the Baltimore and Ohio railway announce that they have received positive news from the wreck at Suman, and it is known that out of 135 people on the train, forty were killed, thirty-five were injured, while sixty escaped unhurt.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—A west-bound immigrant train and a Chicago-New York east-bound freight train, on the Baltimore and Ohio railway, met in a head-on collision at Suman, Ind., causing death and injury of many passengers and great property damage. Three freight cars and six passenger coaches were destroyed. The engines were thrown to one side by the impact, while several cars of the immigrant train were tossed down a ten-foot embankment, where the ruins caught fire. The flames spread with great rapidity.

Many Killed in Their Sleep.

The immigrant train was the second section of the regular express, and the first section did not carry any signal to indicate that the second was following. The freight train pulled out on the main track, and met the immigrant train on the curve. The engineers and firemen saved themselves by jumping, though the engineer on the passenger train was scalded by escaping steam. The passengers were asleep at the time of the collision, and many were killed.

Horror Is Increased by Fire.

The scenes that followed were heart-rending, for the wrecked cars took fire and many were pinned underneath the wreck and were unable to release themselves before the flames reached them. The cries of the dying filled the air, and those who were not disabled tried to save the others, but they were not successful. Most of the injured passengers, together with those who escaped hurt, were brought to Chicago on a special train. For the most part the immigrants consisted of Russian Jews, Serbians and Poles on the way to Chicago and the northwest.

LIST OF DEAD AND INJURED

Roll Is Very Incomplete—Probable Cause of the Disaster.

The list of death is very incomplete, but so far as it is known it follows: Frank Rensmann, passenger engineer, Garrett, Ind.; Lon Cutlers, passenger fireman; Mrs. S. Ingred and two children; Mrs. Robert Novich and three children; Mrs. J. Ritter and two children.

The injured also are not all known. These are those whose names have been ascertained: Robert Novich, arm broken; Lon Collan, collar bone broken; Anthony Burke, Garrett, Ind., engineer freight train, scalded badly; Samuel Moss, passenger conductor, Garrett, head cut; Snyder, baggage-master, head cut; Koster, leg broken; Nick Opolitch, head cut; Ruff Dether, F. Petroff and B. Tuzilman, internal injuries; Radef and wife, burned badly; F. Ernatha, scalded, will die; Roischoff and B. Hoistoff, burned badly; S. Ingred, collar bone broken; Cugros and Kimmmer, scalp wounds; J. Ritter, back injured; Laciip, back injured; C. Ritter, leg broken.

The engineer of the freight train, on instructions received at McCool, waited at the siding at Babcock, Ind., to allow the immigrant train to pass. For some reason he did not know or he had forgotten that the west-bound immigrant train, had been divided into two sections. The first section, headed for Chicago, flew past the waiting freight. Some say it carried at the rear no lights indicating that a second section was following. At all events if it did the signals were unheeded, and Engineer Burke and Conductor Moste sent the freight eastward over the single track.

BOILER BURST KILLS SIX

Scalded to Death by Hot Steam—Five Seriously Hurt.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 13.—Six men were killed and five seriously injured when a boiler in the power house of the Lake Shore railroad in Collingwood, a suburb of Cleveland, blew up. The men were working close to the boiler building the foundation for a dynamo when the explosion occurred. They were all in the mouth of a subway facing the end which blew out of the boiler, and were scalded to death by the immense volume of steam which shot out.

The dead are: Max Crawford, electrician; Albert Bloom, carpenter; A. P. Latta, pipefitter; Paulo Lanceloni and Giovanni Paeloni, laborers, and Julius Waeder, pipefitter. The injured: Fred Kergan, millwright foreman; Frank Evans and W. A. Davis, electricians; R. D. Filles, assistant superintendent of shops; Lagenia Palomere, laborer. Davis and Kergan are fatally scalded.

DINNER TO EDITOR HEARST

Declares His Ideas Will Triumph in the End—Compliment by Nathan Straus.

New York, Nov. 13.—A complimentary dinner was given to William Randolph Hearst at Delmonico's by Lewis Stuyvesant Chanler, W. S. Jackson, John S. Whalen, Julius Hauser and F. W. Skene, his associates on the Democratic and Independence League state tickets. Besides Hearst there were twenty-six other guests, all of whom were either associated with him during his recent campaign for governor or were successful judicial candidates on the Independence League or other tickets. Chanler presided.

Hearst said he was proud of the cause he and his associates had fought for and of its partial success. That cause, he declared, was right and would be recognized as such "as soon as the din and dust and confusion of the battle shall subside." Nathan Straus, in a speech, declared that if his brother Oscar Straus had not been selected to be secretary of commerce and labor in President Roosevelt's cabinet he would have stamped the state "and told the people what a man Mr. Hearst is."

DUE NOTICE TO HEROES

If You Exploit Your Heroism in Shows You Get None of the Carnegie Fund.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 13.—John Segaloe, the Greek fireman who made five ineffectual attempts to swim ashore with a life line from the steamer Valencia just before she went to pieces on Vancouver Island rocks last January, and who has since been hailed as a hero and been given ten medals by various associations and churches of this city, has been refused participation in the Carnegie hero fund.

The sum of $10,000 was recommended by Special Agent Chapsey, who spent several weeks here investigating the case, but the commission refused on the ground that Segaloe had allowed himself to be exhibited by a theatrical manager for several weeks subsequent to the wreck.

Kaiser Calls It "Nonsense."

Berlin, Nov. 13.—While dining with Chancellor von Buelow Saturday Emperor William said to him in the course of their conversation that the reports of a coming change in the chancellorship were nonsense. Prince von Buelow, his majesty added, continued to retain his full confidence. The emperor has accepted the resignation of Minister of Agriculture von Pilschowski. The provisional successor is Dr. von Botmann-Hellweg, minister of the interior.

California Finally Succeeds.

San Francisco, Nov. 13.—After three failures the new cruiser California, recently completed at the Union Iron works, has successfully undergone the four hours' endurance run, the last and final test before her acceptance by the government. The new cruiser behaved splendidly, came up to every requirement and exceeded her contract speed.

Exploding Engine Kills Three.

San Jose, Nov. 13.—Three men were killed by the explosion of the engine on the south-bound Sunset limited train on the Southern Pacific road at Sargent's station. The dead are Joseph Gooch, fireman, superintendent of the Southern Pacific block system; Samuel G. Gillespie, engineer of train, and James Bladon, fireman.

One of the Oldest Twins Dead.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Nov. 13.—Jacob Steen died at the home of his granddaughter here in his 91st year. He and his brother Walter, of Syracuse, who was at his bedside when he passed away, were the oldest twins in the United States. The Steens were born May 19, 1816, in the town of Florida, a few miles from here.

Will Call Morocco Down.

Gibraltar, Nov. 13.—The British Atlantic fleet is to leave here for Tangier. In conjunction with a French fleet of warships it will engage in a demonstration in Moorish waters. This is because of the disorders in Morocco which make life unsafe and result in daily outrages to aliens in Morocco and along the coast.

Just a Pure Fake.

New York, Nov. 13.—The following statement was issued by Al Haymann for Klaw & Erlanger in reference to telegrams dated from Chicago and St. Louis, speaking of the formation of a $50,000,000 theatrical trust. "There is absolutely no truth in the statement, not even the slightest foundation for it."

Colonial Police After Ferreira.

Cape Town, Nov. 13.—The colonial police force which is pursuing the insurgent party under the Transvaal Boer, Ferreira, is within five miles of the raiders, but the scarcity of water and the sandy country renders the chase difficult. The fugitives have gained several recruits.

Wants Bryan in 1908.

New York, Nov. 13.—At a meeting of the Commercial Travelers' A. T. Trust League William Hoge, president, in an address advocated William Jennings Bryan for the next Democratic presidential candidate, and the meeting was in full endorsement of his proposition.

BLOCKADED

Every Household in Dixon Should Know How to Resist It.

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked. Help the kidneys with their work. The back will ache no more.

Lo's of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof, for it comes from Dixon.

Noah Beal, of 620 College Ave., says "Like every one who has weakened or easily excited kidneys, I suffered a great deal with my back. I persistently tried to get relief by using simple household remedies and medicine guaranteed to cure just such symptoms, but until I went to Leake Bros. drug store for Doan's Kidney Pills and took them, I met with little success. The results obtained from the use of Doan's Kidney Pills stamp that remedy as one up to the representations made for it."

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Making An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure that she has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they are to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 5c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

The Philosopher's Sport.

A balloon trip gives one a sense of utter and complete stillness and also a beautifully serene feeling of aloofness from men and tiresome matters, a contempt for the puniness of earth and an unbounded sense of sociability and camaraderie with those with whom one is basketed aloft in those few square feet of wicker. It is a philosopher's joy, ballooning, the sport of the scientific, and the idea that it provides a new thrill or curdles the blood of jaded and sinful butterflies may be good enough for the halfpenny press, but not for the wisecracks of the Aero club.—Bystander.

Lucky Horseshoes.

There is a right way and a wrong in the picking up of a horseshoe. I was walking with a country bred boy along a Somerset lane and saw one lying in the crumbling summer rut. "There is a horseshoe," said I. The lad sprang forward, but stopped suddenly before his fingers touched the iron. "But I won't pick it up," said he, "or I shall spoil your luck." It may perhaps have been only a point of etiquette, but he assured me that a horseshoe of my finding could bring luck neither to him nor to me if he touched it before me.—London Standard.

NOVELTY IN SUICIDES

Young Man Kills Himself While Hugging a Girl Who Was His Sweetheart.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 13.—Thomas Dougherty, of Dunmore, was killed by being pierced in the heart by a long needle, but the local police have decided to withdraw the warrant that had been issued for the arrest of Katie Burke, the girl who owned the needle. She says that she had been mending her brother's clothing with a long needle used heretofore in mending miners' heavy outer clothing, and that on going downtown in the evening she struck the needle in the bosom of her dress.

Dougherty, who had been her sweetheart, hailed her and asked her to take a walk with him. He attempted to embrace her, and the point of the needle that was in her dress caught in his vest, while the "eye," or blunt end, rested against her corset. In the embrace the needle was forced into his body, through the fifth rib and into the cavity between the pericardium and the heart.

Hits the Land Agents.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—All western railroads announced that they would discontinue the practice of issuing free transportation or reduced rates to land agents, and most of the 50,000 land agents who are registered with the Western Trunk line committee will find themselves out of work. This action was taken because the interstate commerce commission ruled that the issuance of such transportation was illegal.

Will Assist Harahan.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—J. T. Harahan, the new president of the Illinois Central railroad, has announced the appointment of J. F. Titus to be assistant to the president, and as such to perform the duties of the late J. C. Wellington. It is understood that the vice presidency which Wellington filled will be abolished.

Hoch's Election Conceded.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 13.—Democratic Chairman Ryan has conceded the re-election of Governor Hoch by about 1,500 plurality. He said: "We will make no contest. We are well satisfied with the result." Official returns from 103 out of 105 counties in the state give Hoch 1,934 plurality.

Drowned in a Canoeing.

Chicago, Nov. 13.—While transporting stone to the new breakwater on a flat bottom boat the vessel capsized and Michael Bank and Joseph Regilla were drowned. Six other workmen on the boat narrowly escaped a similar fate.

FEDERATION POLITICS

Result of the Campaign Entered into by Gompers' Labor Organization.

Views of the Order's Chief

Says the Results Assure the Respectful Consideration of the Demands of Organized Labor.

Minneapolis, Nov. 13.—The feature of the opening session here of the twenty-sixth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor was the exhaustive annual report of President Samuel Gompers, in which, in a detailed manner, he outlined the progress of the labor movement throughout the country, laying special stress on the advent of unionism into the political arena and recommending that this course be strictly adhered to. A strong plea was made for the employment of United States labor on the Panama canal. Speaking of the results of the political campaign Gompers says:

Expects More Respectful Treatment.
"While at this writing no definite results can be predicted, I feel confident that we have enough congressmen elected and pledged to the rights of labor and the people as to make it impossible for another hostile or indifferent congress to treat labor's demands in the future as they have been treated in the past. And in passing it may not be amiss to express the opinion that in the pending session of the present congress the lessons of labor's campaign will have a salutary influence."

In Good Financial Condition.

At the conclusion of Gompers' address, which was well received, the annual report of Secretary Frank Morrison was read, which showed the Federation to be in not only splendid financial condition, but also stronger in membership than ever before. During the last year $218,540.04 was expended, out of which $22,619.12 was advanced to the International Typographical union in the carrying on by that organization of a strike for an eight-hour day. There is at the present time $111,540.00 in the treasury of the Federation. During the year there were 887 strikes, in which there were 91,530 involved. Of that number 68,812 were benefited and 11,183 not benefited. The total cost of strikes during the year was $2,982,805.66.

Congratulatory Remarks.

John B. Lennon, treasurer of the Federation, in his annual report says: "During the sixteen years marked changes have taken place in our organization. Then we were struggling to maintain our existence. Now the Federation is as strong as the everlasting hills. Then the advice and help of the Federation was sought for by but few of our unions. Now none of our international unions make any great trade movement without the approval and co-operation of the American Federation of Labor." Following these reports the convention adjourned until 9 a. m. today. The sessions will continue for two weeks.

AIR IS FULL OF DEMANDS

Engineers Get a Raise—Others Work for the Same.

New York, Nov. 13.—The scale of wages and the length of the work day were the issues at various meetings of grievance committees representing the engineers and firemen of several of the railroads centering at New York. At a conference between President W. H. Truesdale, of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, and a committee of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, including Grand Chief Warren H. Stone, the engineers were granted a ten-hour day and increases in wages aggregating for the 900 engineers $50,000 to $85,000 a year.

Committees representing the engineers of the New York, New Haven and Hartford and the New York Central railroads met to discuss the demands they are to make upon these two lines for higher wages and shorter hours of labor. The poll of the locomotive firemen of the Erie railroad being taken for the purpose of determining whether or not to resort to a strike in an endeavor to enforce their demands, according to Grand Master Hannahan, of the firemen's organization, resulted in an almost unanimous vote in favor of a strike so far as returns have been received.

The adjustment committee of the engineers is formulating a set of demands to be made upon the Erie, irrespective of the demands of the firemen. Demands for higher wages have been made at Cleveland on the roads entering that city, the advances demanded ranging from 10 to 30 per cent. At Cincinnati a committee is demanding of the Big Four system an increase of 14 cents per hour for switchmen, and an eight-hour day.

Cured of Bright's Disease.

Mr. Robert O. Burke, Elmore, N. Y., writes: "Before I started to use Foley's Kidney Cure I had to get up from twelve to twenty times a night, and I was all bloated up with dropsy, and my eyesight was so impaired I could scarcely see one of my family across the room. I had given up hope of living, when a friend recommended Foley's Kidney Cure. One 50 cent bottle worked wonders and before I had taken the third bottle the dropsy had gone, as well as all other symptoms of Bright's disease." Rowland Bros.

Here is our condensed opinion of the Original Laxative Cough Syrup: Nearly all other cough syrups are constipating, especially those containing opiates. Kennedy's Laxative containing Honey and Tar moves the bowels. Contains no opiates. Conforms to the National Pure Food and Drug Law. Sold by Rowland Bros.

Ohio Keeps Up Her Reputation for Race Troubles—Fatal Case of Cutting.

Mount Vernon, O., Nov. 13. — Race troubles, which have existed here for some time, culminated in a serious cutting affray when Grant Stewart, colored, slashed George Dunn, white, with a knife so that forty-seven stitches were required to close the wound. Dunn is dying, and Stewart is in jail. Dunn ordered Stewart out of a restaurant where Stewart was seated, the order being given without authority of any kind and because Stewart was a negro. This ended in the fight narrated above.

The race trouble started four weeks ago when a white man is alleged to have made an insulting remark to a colored woman on the street. Street fights between the whites and blacks have occurred frequently since.

BAFFLED BY AN AUTO

Mob Is Not Speedy Enough to Ca'ch a Devil Wagon in a Hurry.

JUDGE LYNCH IS LEFT BEHIND

Mattoon Minus a Mayor—Sick Man Finds Out What Ails Him—Prairie State News.

Eureka, Ill., Nov. 13.—A big automobile at full speed away from an angry mob was all that saved the life of Geo. Crumley, of the little town of Wenona. Crumley was suspected of the murder of James Gibbons, a farmer near Eureka, on Aug. 28, and had been arrested the night previous in Wenona. The sheriff ordered that the prisoner be driven in a carriage to Eureka. When this order came to the little village of Wenona it was the first intimation that the suspected murderer was in that town.

Mob Is Always with Us. Immediately a crowd began to gather around the little town jail. The mob grew rapidly and angry threats were made. In less than an hour the crowd numbered 200 and there were signs of attempted violence. "Get him out of the jail!" "Kill him!" "Hang him!" shouted the more daring. The town marshal became alarmed. He consulted with his two deputies and they decided upon a ruse to get their prisoner out of the jail and away from the mob that threatened every minute to tear down the frail prison.

Crowd "Arused to Frenzy." Quietly the marshal communicated with a man who owned a large touring car and he was instructed to be in readiness a couple of blocks away from the jail. In the meantime the orders of the sheriff apparently were being carried out. A buggy was brought from the livery stable and Crumley hurried out of a side door of the jail and into the carriage. The sight of the prisoner aroused the crowd into a frenzy and it gave hot chase. The carriage was driven rapidly away from the jail, but it looked as though it would be overtaken.

Devil Wagon Is Too Fast.

With drawn revolvers the officers faced the mob, some of whom flourished revolvers. The automobile was waiting and the officers almost threw the shrinking prisoner into the car as the chauffeur opened the throttle and the car dashed toward Eureka, twenty miles away. But the chase did not end when the prisoner was placed in the car, for some of the mob attempted to follow in buggies and on horseback. Several shots were fired in an attempt to puncture the tires of the automobile, but the machine escaped and the trip was made to the larger jail in Eureka in record-breaking time.

He Confesses the Murder. Since his escape from the mob Crumley has confessed the murder, and told where he hid the shotgun with which he did the deed. Sheriff Gish and City Marshal Mickey found the gun barrel at the farm in the place the prisoner said he hid it.

TOWN IS SHORT A MAYOR

City Council Declares the Office Vacant and Adjourns Without Naming an Executive.

Mattoon, Ill., Nov. 13. — Headless, Mattoon is in danger of a standstill. After declaring the office of mayor vacant, the city council adjourned in a wrangle without electing a successor. Municipal business cannot properly be performed until a mayor is provided. Mayor Byers moved to Mason City, Ia., a few weeks ago. Alderman Brown was elected acting mayor during his absence. It becoming plain that Byers does not intend to return, the council met to fill the office.

The first necessary step was put through without a hitch and the city was without a mayor. Then began the task of choosing a successor. Here the council tied itself up into such a hard knot that the sole solution seemed to be a recess, which was taken. Some of the aldermen hold that Brown still is acting mayor. Others differ.

Consolidation Is Opposed.

Bloomington, Ill., Nov. 13.—The annual inspection of the Soldiers' Orphan's Home here was made by the congressional committee of the Grand Army of the Republic, headed by General T. J. Henderson, of Princeton, chairman. The committee adopted resolutions vigorously protesting against the proposed consolidation of the institution with the Soldiers' Home at Quincy.

Hunters Becoming a Nuisance. Rockford, Ill., Nov. 13. — Farmers in Winnebago county are organizing an association to prosecute hunters who damage property, and practically all the good hunting ground in the county will be closed. Farmers say Chicagoans are the worst offenders.

Gave It to Him About Right. Chicago, Nov. 13.—Harry L. Harshall, 23 years old, seventy-third street and Woodlawn avenue, was arrested on the charge of cruelty to animals. He is said to have stabbed one of his horses with a knife when the animal failed to move on. He was fined $100.

Sprig of Cedar His Trouble.

Fairfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—Relief from bronchitis and threatened consumption came for Timothy Whitacre, a well-known farmer near this city, when he coughed up a sprig of cedar which a year ago had been drawn down his trachea.

"Stranger," down the Mississippi. The steamer is an elegant affair, originally built for a New York millionaire for private use, but sold to the government during the Spanish war.

A few of our northern friends will look back with pleasure upon the delightful afternoon spent with Mr. Christie, and his party of Southern friends on his yacht, the DeSota.

The Illinois soldiers gave a creditable parade and then there was a reception by the governor and citizens to the visitors from the North, in the beautiful palm room of the St. Charles, the famous rebuilt Crescent City hotel.

At New Orleans a banquet was given in honor of the Vicksburg Monument commission by the visiting citizens of Illinois. The grand affair took place in the palm room of the St. Charles, where patriotic speeches were delivered by Governor Blanchard, ex-Governor Wymouth, Colonel Matthews, of the commission, and others. Governor Blanchard delivered a most charmingly eloquent and patriotic address.

When in Rome do as the Romans do; so a few visitors attended the theatre on Sunday, after visiting the French quarters, the cemetery and other quaint and curious places.

Though received cordially everywhere, yet the last place visited on our return trip, being the city of Memphis, that was the city where we were most royally entertained and treated in a princely manner.

The train was hardly stopped when Mr. C. H. Newland—a nephew, by the way, of Mrs. John Carpenter of Dixon, came into the car and invited us to make the Tennessee club our headquarters, and there we were dined and wine and smoked to our heart's content; not to mention carriage and automobile rides to the Country club and about the city. The party was given luncheons at the different clubs.

The entire party will never forget the cordial greeting and pleasant day spent in Memphis, where all were so delightfully entertained by the refined and cultured ladies and gentlemen of that charming and prosperous city.

Messrs. Lawrence Craig, Carey, Pigeon and many others whose names we do not recall were also very attentive to the wants of our party.

In the evening and late in the night after leaving Memphis, the party enjoyed a very hilarious time, going through the cars singing "John Brown" and other familiar airs, winding up in the dining car with toasts and brief speeches, making a merry ride of it and becoming still better acquainted.

We can not attempt a history now of the siege of Vicksburg by General Grant's army, which was a most remarkable event in the history of the civil war. General Grant in planning the final capture of that city abandoned all rules of war by disregarding his base of supplies, and swinging his army to the south of Vicksburg, at Brainbury, where he crossed the Mississippi river and marched to the rear of Vicksburg, and got between the Confederate armies under Generals Pemberton and Johnson, a most brilliant bit of strategy. General Pemberton at the time was in command of the Confederate forces of that department, and therefore Grant cut his army in two and "bottled up" over one-half of it in the fortifications at Vicksburg.

General Pemberton had at that time an aggregate of 61,495 men. In all the history of war there is no more brilliant and clear indication of great generalship than Grant's capture of Vicksburg. He cut off permanently all communication between the Confederacy and the trans-Mississippi department from the balance of Jefferson Davis' dominion.

The first movement of the capture of Vicksburg was directed against Chickasaw Bayou, where the Thirtieth Illinois regiment was engaged. This organization, the first in all the country to enlist for the war, was mustered in the service at Dixon, and company A was made up of Dixon young men.

It must have been very pleasant for C. H. Noble and Henry D. Dement to again visit the battle field where both were engaged in a bloody struggle for the union. Here the Thirtieth lost nearly two hundred men, killed and wounded. Here the brave Colonel John B. Wyman gave up his life for his country.

O. B. Dodge went to Polo yesterday.

Mr. Albright went to Eldena yesterday for a few days' visit.

A MOMENT WITH INSURANCE MEN

AMERICAN FIRE COMPANIES ADD
$30,000,000 TO CAPITAL
AND SURPLUS.

MAKING UP FRISCO LOSSES

Foreign Companies Send Over Equal
Amount to Maintain Assets in This Country.

Large additions are being made to the capital and surplus of the American fire insurance companies to enable them to withstand the strain of the San Francisco losses. Ten new companies have been organized and 37 old companies have paid in additional funds since the conflagration, either through assessment or by the issuance of new stock at a premium. The subscribed contributions to new capital are $13,772,895, and to surplus $18,181,350, a total of $31,954,245. Of this sum $25,000,000 already has been paid in and most of the remaining installments are due before the end of the year. The companies had arranged the payments so as to have the funds in by the time for making the annual statements, and some of them are aggrieved at the action of the insurance commissioners in calling for statements October 31, in the midst of their financial arrangements.

The companies that have made these additions to their funds had a combined capital and surplus before the conflagration of $45,807,613, so that nearly 75 per cent of their loss-paying power was exhausted on the Pacific coast. This is in addition to over $30,000,000 sent over by foreign fire insurance companies in order that the assets of their United States branches might be maintained intact. Even with this the fire insurance capital of the country is inadequate to carry safely the growing amount of liability placed upon it, and there is urgent need that the companies should further strengthen their surpluses against another conflagration.

WHAT IS CATARRH?

Simple Way to Overcome the Dangers of This Disagreeable Disease.

Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane of the nose, throat and lungs, with many annoying symptoms. In this climate there are few who do not suffer from this disagreeable disease, often in a chronic and dangerous state.

Fortunately, within the last few years a simple and reliable treatment for catarrhal troubles has been found—Hyomel, a combination of healing and germ-killing balsams that, when breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, reaches the tiniest cells in the respiratory organs carrying its healing and health-giving properties to every part where the catarrhal poison is present.

Used in this way, Hyomel kills all catarrhal germs, drives the poison from the system and heals all irritation that may be present in the mucous membrane.

If you have the ordinary catarrhal symptoms, such as offensive breath, burning pains in the throat, cough, raising of mucus, difficulty in breathing, sneezing, huskiness, discharge from the nose, droppings in the throat, coughing spasms, etc., begin the use of Hyomel at once.

A complete Hyomel outfit costs but $1. extra bottles, if needed, 50 cents, and is sold by Rowland Bros. under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh or money will be refunded.

HEARD AT THE NACHUSA HOUSE

Traveling Men Speak in High Praise of Dixon.

A group of traveling men at the Nachusa House last night agreed that Dixon was one of the most up-to-date cities in the country. One of them said, "I can generally tell whether a town is up with the times by noticing the brand of cigars that is the most popular. If the leading store is more Wadsworth Bros. Chicos than they do of any other cigar, I put down the residents of that city as progressive and up-to-date and desirous of the good things of life."

Wadsworth Bros' Chicos are sold in Dixon by Walgreen-Davis Co., and the man at the cigar case told me that he was selling twice as many Chicos as of any other two kinds. This shows that Dixon smokers want a good Havana filled cigar that burns freely, is mild and pleasant and makes an enjoyable smoke.

Wadsworth Bros' Chicos is the only cigar I know of costing less than twenty cents that fills the bill. "Just so how fragrant it is," he said as he puffed a lot of smoke over the group. Chicos sell for but five cents, even though, as our friend the traveling man said, "It is the favorite with those who want the best cigar they can get for their money."
